

Perkins Coie Named as a 2022 Top Company in Treasure Valley

BOISE (August 19, 2022)—Perkins Coie is pleased to announce that it has been named as one of the 2022 Top Companies in Idaho's Treasure Valley. Perkins Coie ranked second in the large company category and was awarded Top Family Friendly Company and Top Healthiest Company. The inaugural awards program is a project of the Idaho Business Review and Best Companies Group designed to identify, recognize, and honor the best workplaces in Treasure Valley that also benefit the region's economy.

"We are honored that the Boise office has been recognized as one of the leading employers in Treasure Valley and it's a real tribute to all of our attorneys and business professionals who contribute to our workplace culture," said Melanie Rubocki, Perkins Coie's Boise office managing partner. "The growing success of our Boise operations is also driven by our clients' trust in us and the effective legal solutions we provide to clients in Treasure Valley and beyond."

To be considered for the award, companies were evaluated based on their workplace policies, practices, and demographics. The evaluation also included an employee survey to measure the employee experience. The resulting combined scores determined the top companies and the final rankings.
