

Jasmine Wetherell Mentioned in Law360—Pot Industry May Soon Face Surge of Product Liability Suits

Jasmine Wetherell was mentioned in an article in *Law360 titled "Pot Industry May Soon Face Surge of Product Liability Suits." The article discusses a product liability web seminar that Jasmine was a panelist on. The panel discussed how the cannabis industry should prepare for an increase in consumer class actions as the market matures and the plaintiffs bar grows more sophisticated. Jasmine said the situation in the food and beverage industry, which has become a major target for consumer class actions, could serve as a helpful harbinger of what the cannabis industry faces as it continues to grow.
