

Jane Rueger Quoted in Law360—3 Biggest Hurdles For States Pushing Greener Energy

Jane Rueger was quoted in "3 Biggest Hurdles For States Pushing Greener Energy," an article in Law360,* regarding how states are making goals to decarbonize their energy supplies.

"The challenges facing states and developers today are far from what early adopters of renewables faced in the 1980s or even the 2000s, said Jane Rueger of Perkins Coie LLP. In the past, the biggest issue was overcoming technology costs and getting steel into the ground."

"Now that the technology is more available, there are massive efforts to build out things like offshore wind in the Northeast and major solar projects in the West, Jane pointed out."
