

10 Trauma-Informed Techniques For Workplace Investigations

Spencer Gottlieb wrote an article for *Law360 entitled, "Law360: 10 Trauma-Informed Techniques For Workplace Investigations".

As corporations and other institutions continue to grapple with the lessons brought to light from the #MeToo movement and ongoing battles to eradicate systemic racism, internal investigations — and the practices used to conduct them — have emerged as a common flashpoint requiring urgent attention.

There are warning signs at the beginning of many institutional crises, and effectively run internal investigations can provide early opportunities to identify and potentially resolve problematic behavior or practices before they embed themselves into the workplace culture.

Click here to read the full article in Law360.*

Authors

Spencer Gottlieb

Counsel

SGottlieb@perkinscoie.com 312.324.8579