

Corporate Boards Are Ramping up These Sustainability Priorities

Sustainability remains a top priority for corporate boards this year as industries field growing demand from investors, consumers, and governments for more accountability, transparency, and responsiveness.

Major developments last year, such as the Securities and Exchange Commission's proposed climate-risk disclosure rules, criticisms of ESG ratings metrics, and growing concerns about greenwashing, raised the bar for corporate sustainability practices. The following stand out as sustainability priorities for 2023.
