

In a commentary article for Bloomberg Law, Henry Hauser highlights how proving a concerted effort for anticompetitive behavior will become more difficult and challenging as AI-powered algorithms saturate businesses' supply chains.

At a Dec. 13 Judiciary Committee hearing, senators from both sides of the aisle analyzed when businesses sharing algorithms powered by artificial intelligence cross into illegal anti-competitive conduct.

Read the full article on Bloomberg Law

Explore more in

Antitrust & Unfair Competition