

Articles

January 01, 2024

AI's Potential Role in Reasonable Accommodation Requests

As any lawyer working around corporations has no doubt observed, artificial intelligence (AI), and especially generative AI, has the potential to be a game changer for companies seeking to streamline operations, improve efficiencies, and fast-track content creation.

For some companies, this has included implementing AI-driven technologies in their human resources (HR) functions; for example, employers have increasingly used AI to assist with screening applicants and training employees.

Read the full article on Arizona Attorney

Authors

Explore more in

Artificial Intelligence & Machine Learning