

As any lawyer working around corporations has no doubt observed, artificial intelligence (AI), and especially generative AI, has the potential to be a game changer for companies seeking to streamline operations, improve efficiencies, and fast-track content creation.

For some companies, this has included implementing AI-driven technologies in their human resources (HR) functions; for example, employers have increasingly used AI to assist with screening applicants and training employees.

Read the full article on Arizona Attorney

Authors

Kristine J. Beaudoin

Counsel

KBeaudoin@perkinscoie.com 602.351.8395

Paul E. Smith

Senior Counsel

PSmith@perkinscoie.com 206.359.3817

Explore more in

Artificial Intelligence & Machine Learning