

Updates

January 30, 2021

CEQA Year in Review—2020

Despite relatively few published opinions this year, there were significant rulings on a range of topics, including whether projects are properly classified as discretionary or ministerial, the adequacy of mitigation, agencies' document retention obligations, the remedy for an inadequate EIR, mootness, and statutes of limitations. Click here to read the full report.

Authors

Related insights

Update

Federal Banking Agencies and FinCEN Hit Reset on AML/CFT: Implications for Financial Institutions

Update

FERC Meeting Agenda Summaries for April 2026