

Updates

January 30, 2021

CEQA Year in Review—2020

Despite relatively few published opinions this year, there were significant rulings on a range of topics, including whether projects are properly classified as discretionary or ministerial, the adequacy of mitigation, agencies' document retention obligations, the remedy for an inadequate EIR, mootness, and statutes of limitations. Click here to read the full report.

Authors

Related insights

Update

Trends in the Growth of Investment in US Data Centers Under the Trump Administration

Update

California Senate Bill 399: Captive Audience Law Challenged in Federal Lawsuit