

In February, the Texas attorney general brought the first enforcement action under Texas' Capture of Use of Biometric law.

CUBI was the first state law to govern the collection and use of biometric data, predating the more well-known Illinois law by seven years.

This update explores (1) the key differences between CUBI and the Illinois Biometric Information Protection Act, (2) what the Texas attorney general's recent allegations may suggest about its interpretation of CUBI, and (3) CUBI risk mitigation practices for entities that collect or possess certain kinds of biometric data.

Read More

Authors

Sunita Bali

Partner

SBali@perkinscoie.com 415.344.7065

Debra R. Bernard

Of Counsel

DBernard@perkinscoie.com 312.324.8559

Susan Fahringer

Partner

SFahringer@perkinscoie.com 206.359.8687

Nicola Menaldo

Partner

NMenaldo@perkinscoie.com 206.359.8000

Explore more in

Privacy & Security

Blog series

Perkins on Privacy

Perkins on Privacy keeps you informed about the latest developments in privacy and data security law. Our insights are provided by Perkins Coie's Privacy & Security practice, recognized by Chambers as a leading firm in the field.

View the blog