

Blogs

May 19, 2022

What's Next for Privacy at the FTC Following the Confirmation of Alvaro Bedoya

Alvaro Bedoya has now been sworn in as a commissioner for the U.S. Federal Trade Commission. This restores a Democratic majority on the Commission and will enable the agency to move forward with the aggressive agenda of Chair Lina Khan. As a result, we can expect to see significant actions by the FTC on privacy and data security in the near term.

Read More

Authors

Explore more in

Privacy & Security