

First Generation Investors (FGI) is a nonprofit 501(c)3 organization started by two University of Pennsylvania students who wanted to do more than talk about a problem. They launched FGI to teach the power of investing to high school students in underserved communities and to bring classroom lessons to life by providing real money for students to invest. Their lunch-table idea is now expanding rapidly across the country.

Listen to "Solutions to the Wealth Gap" on Spreaker.

Find us where you get your podcasts

Contributors

Jill B. Louis

Partner

JLouis@perkinscoie.com 214.259.4920

Explore more in

Corporate Governance Sustainability & Corporate Responsibility

Podcast series

RelevantNOW

RelevantNOW examines the intersection of business and public interest. Experts will analyze and provide a fresh take on the most relevant issues we face today through an environmental social governance lens. Upcoming episodes will discuss access to broadband, social justice, public-private partnerships for education, arts investment and other issues.

View the series