Global Investigation Trends – India (Part 2): A Discussion With Arpinder Singh of EY Forensics & Integrity Services

In Part 2 of our examination of internal investigation trends in India, Perkins Coie partners Markus Funk speaks with Arpinder Singh, a partner with EY Forensics & Integrity Services and head of their India and Emerging Markets group.

Topics discussed include trends in both the subject matter and scope of internal investigations in India; the increasing number of whistleblower reports being lodged in India and how companies are responding to those reports; and tips on how companies and outside counsel can best investigate potential wrongdoing, including where to look for relevant data.
