

Blogs

March 11, 2022

Public Chatter

The SEC Will Propose Climate Disclosure Rules on March 21st...

The SEC has scheduled an open Commission meeting to propose climate disclosure rules - set for Monday, March 21st. Love the title for the meeting: "The Enhancement and Standardization of Climate-Related Disclosures for Investors." And not that it matters, but note that it's fairly unusual for the SEC to hold an open Commission meeting on a Monday...

Explore more in

Corporate Law

Blog series

Public Chatter

Public Chatter provides practical guidance—and the latest developments—to those grappling with public company securities law and corporate governance issues, through content developed from an in-house perspective.

View the blog