Human Capital Management: Continuing Disclosure Evolution

During our recent webcast - "Proxy Season Post-Mortem – 20 Things" - at the 46:26 mark, Kelly Reinholdtsen noted these developments in Year 2 of required human capital management disclosures in the Form 10-K:

- Some disclosure themes continued from last year and in some cases, were expanded upon as companies tried to get ahead of additional SEC rulemaking in the human capital area expected later this year. Disclosures typically touched upon:
- Workforce demographics, by gender or location
- Compensation elements, including how broad-based
- Commitment to DEI, including training, promotion and hiring programs and practices
- Retention and turnover trends
- Employee pulse surveys and employee satisfaction engagement and outreach
- Remote work opportunities and protocols, as well as health & safety plans
- Pay equity efforts

Explore more in

Corporate Law Blog series

Public Chatter

Public Chatter provides practical guidance—and the latest developments—to those grappling with public company securities law and corporate governance issues, through content developed from an in-house perspective.

View the blog