Navigating Remote Video Depositions

In Partnership with Perkins Coie and Oregon Women Lawyers

We have long had the ability to conduct remote depositions, but their popularity has surged during the COVID-19 pandemic. They are likely to become the new normal due to their cost benefits, the reduction in health risks, and advances in video platform technology.

Perkins Coie and Oregon Women Lawyers are pleased to present a video webinar presentation to discuss tips and techniques for successful remote depositions.

Perkins Coie Partner Renée Rothauge will provide an overview of the current issues related to remote depositions and offer a list of best practices. You will learn:

- The legal basis for remote depositions
- Technology issues and opportunities
- Tips for taking an effective remote deposition
- Handling exhibits during a remote deposition
- Effective defense of your client during a remote deposition
