

Blogs

May 05, 2021

Food & Consumer Packaged Goods Litigation

Delta-8: A New Low in Highs

Most Americans are familiar with the term "THC" at this point. What they might not yet appreciate is that common nomenclature is actually referring to Delta-9-tetrahydrocannabinol or "Delta-9" THC. That's the scientific terminology for the molecule in marijuana that's well-known for its psychoactive properties—i.e., what causes a "high." Delta-9 is a cannabinoid and there are hundreds of different cannabinoids within any given cannabis plant. Read the full article on our sister blog Cannabis Legal Highlights.

Explore more in

Food & Consumer Packaged Goods Litigation Food & Beverage

Blog series

Food & Consumer Packaged Goods Litigation

Food & Consumer Packaged Goods Litigation shares timely insights into litigation developments, emerging arguments and challenges facing food and consumer packaged goods manufacturers and related industries.

View the blog