

Events

July 22, 2024

Alternative Proteins and Trending Areas in Food Technology

Brian Sylvester provided an overview of trending areas in food innovation, including precision fermentation, molecular farming, and alternative proteins. He also covered key legal questions and issues related to these topics, from labeling to pending state and federal legislation of significance. Adam Mandelsberg additionally provided perspectives on related and emerging litigation regarding the labeling of novel foods.

Authors