

Events

February 27, 2025

Artificial Intelligence, Machine Learning, and Social Media

John Delaney will be speaking at the Social Media and Mobile Devices 2025: Addressing Corporate Risks, on the rise of generative AI technologies and their impact on social media.

This session will explore the rise of generative AI technologies and their impact on social media. After completing this session, participants will better understand:

- The rise of generative AI and where we are today
- How generative AI is impacting social media platforms and their users
- Emerging laws, court decisions, and legal issues relating to generative AI tools
- Best practices and risk-mitigation measures in using generative AI in connection with social media

Learn More and Register

Authors