

Tomorrow's Webcast: "Integrating New DOJ Guidance into Compliance Operations"

Tune in tomorrow for a complimentary webcast - "Integrating New DOJ Guidance into Compliance Operations" - featuring Gina LaMonica, Jamie Schafer, Danielle Benderly, April Goff, Margaret Meyers and Brittany Benavidez that will cover recent changes to the DOJ's corporate criminal enforcement policies and their impact on business organizations and their compliance operations.

Not only will the program provide an overview of the DOJ's new guidance and updates on recent enforcement actions, it will also include a detailed discussion of revised guidance for effective corporate compliance programs, such as offline messaging and personal device policies and compliance-focused compensation practices.

And it will offer practical strategies and consider implications for a variety of relevant functions—including compliance, human resources, employee benefits, data security, and privacy—to assist in-house counsel and compliance professionals seeking to align existing policies with these new DOJ expectations. Register now.

Explore more in

Corporate Law

Blog series

Public Chatter

Public Chatter provides practical guidance—and the latest developments—to those grappling with public company securities law and corporate governance issues, through content developed from an in-house perspective.

View the blog